NO DECISION ON MOON CASE AS SUPREME COURT CONVENES

U. N. COUNCIL WILL DISCUSS CANAL ISSUE

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council will meet Wednesday afternoon to take up the Suez Canal dispute at the request of Britain and France.

A full airing of the bitter wrangle with Egypt is expected to develop after the arrival of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other high officials by the end of the week. Diplomatic quarters said French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Secretary of State Dulles were expected to take part in the council discussion.

Britain and France put their surprise demand before the 11-nation council in a letter to its president, Emilio Nunez-Portuondo of Cuba. They did not say what action they would seek.

A British spokesman in London indicated the two nations would ask the 103-mile waterway be put under international control. Egyptian President Nasser already has rejected that proposal, and Western diplomats feared Russia would veto any council action opposed by Egypt.

Dulles indicated the United States would seek to delay the major debate. The American secretary in a television appearance endorsed the British-French appeal to the U. N. but said he thought "substantive discussion" before the council should wait until formation of the Suez Canal Users' Assn. agreed on at the 18-nation London conference last week.

The association is scheduled to be set up at another London conference beginning Oct. 1. It is supposed to work up a proposal to the U. N. for international control of the canal and to approach Egypt directly for a role for the user nations in the operation of the waterway.

Three others injured in the accident include Sharon's brother, Reginald Exley, Jr., injured right ankle and chin cuts; John Petri, 16, of Fairview, a fractured right arm, multiple bruises; Jack Huhn, 17, of South Dayton, N. Y., severe facial bruises and lacerations.

Ambulance Service for Boro Is Discussed by Speaker at Rotary Club Weekly Meeting

With the Warren ambulance service situation becoming more acute, Joseph A. Williamson was present at Rotary Club meeting today to discuss steps taken to date to provide a continuation of ambulance operation which funeral directors have stated they intend to halt at midnight, September 30.

Hospital administrator Williamson mentioned that Borough Council had approached "some persons" who might be interested in carrying out the operation as a private enterprise. It was brought out though that Borough Council is limited in the amount of funds which could be spent to underwrite what Williamson called a "deficit operation." By a vote of 14 against, 12 for, and several undecided,

Divorcee Found Slain in Cabin At Sandy Lake

Mercer, (AP) — State police searched today for the slayer of a 43-year-old divorcee whose body was found in her resort home at nearby Sandy Lake.

The victim was Mrs. Grace Rockhart, who lived alone. Her throat had been slashed.

Police said no weapon was found and they could give no motive. Several persons were questioned and released.

James H. Starry, 72, described as a friend of the family, discovered the body Saturday afternoon when he delivered Mrs. Rockhart's mail and milk, police said.

Coroner Cyril T. Reinsel estimated Mrs. Rockhart was slain Friday evening or early Saturday. (Turn to Page Ten)

With the Candidates

NIXON
Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP) — Vice President Nixon started the second week of a 15,000-mile campaign tour today by accusing the Democrats of stepping up "their campaign of misrepresentation and distortion."

He made the accusation as he headed for a noonday speech at Phoenix, Ariz., and a night rally at Salt Lake City after a weekend pause here in his current tour that started last Tuesday. He has visited 11 states.

DUFF
Carlisle, Pa. (AP) — Sen. James H. Duff Rt. Pa. said he would present the "facts" to federal officials today on what he termed the "pistol whipping" of state employees to buy tickets to the Democratic fund raising dinner in Harrisburg Sept. 13.

KEFAUVER
Mitchell, S. D. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today, "The Eisenhower administration is seeking to plow under what it considers the 'surplus' farm families." All through 1953, and 1954 and 1955, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee said, "President Eisenhower cheerfully watched Ezra Taft Benson slide farmers deeper and deeper into debt."

STEVENSON
Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, hitting at the Eisenhower administration, said today "We cannot stop this dangerous drift in foreign affairs by pretending all is well while Communist influence is spreading everywhere."

In a campaign address prepared for delivery at a courthouse lawn rally here, the Democratic presidential nominee declared: "We must have a foreign policy that is firm, consistent and also comprehensible."

CLARK
Lancaster, (AP) — Joseph S. Clark, Jr., Democratic candidate for the U. S. senate, today renewed his charge that his opponent, incumbent Republican James H. Duff, "failed to represent adequately the people who sent him to Washington." In a televised address WGALT, Clark said: "The one promise I make is that I will give full time, interested leadership in the United States Senate on behalf of all Pennsylvanians."

Ike Polishing Off His Speech Tuesday Night

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower is expected to aim a return wallop at Adlai E. Stevenson's discussion of the farm issue in a campaign speech in Illinois tomorrow night.

Eisenhower, who rested over the weekend, devotes part of his time today to the anniversary of his 1955 heart attack to polishing the speech he will deliver at Peoria. The speech will be his second of the campaign to be carried nationally by radio and television.

With his Democratic opponent's charges getting more vigorous, Eisenhower was described by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty as physically fit to step up the tempo of his campaign if he chooses. Hagerty said Saturday Eisenhower is "feeling fine," has pushed his weight up to 172 pounds.

Eisenhower's visit to Peoria and to Lexington, Ky., a week from today are likely to match the somewhat strenuous tour he made to the National Field Days near Newton, Iowa, last week.

On a 160-mile motor swing through central Iowa, he was on his feet nearly half the time, standing in his car and waving to the crowds.

It was just a year ago today that he suffered a heart attack in Denver. Then on June 9 he underwent an emergency operation to relieve a partial blockage of the small intestine.

Stevenson has raised the health issue by implication, suggesting that Eisenhower is a "part-time president."

State Highway Crashes Take New Record Toll

By The Associated Press
Thirty-one persons lost their lives in Pennsylvania accidents over the weekend.

It was the fifth time this year that 30 or more persons died in a weekend period and the sixth time that 20 or more persons had died on the state's highways.

The greatest single toll occurred early Sunday in North Philadelphia when five youngsters, all Negroes, suffocated as fire swept their third floor apartment.

Multi-fatal highway accidents occurred Friday night in Pittsburgh—four lives lost; Friday night near Waterford—three lives lost and Sunday morning near Franklin—two lives.

The highest single death toll of the year was the weekend of March 31-April 1 when 22 persons were killed in a plane crash at Pittsburgh and a total of 36 died.

Newly-elected Post and County Officers of Warren and Forest Counties, American Legion, together with their wives and guests, met at the American Legion Home in Warren, Saturday evening, to participate in a county-council sponsored Installation Banquet and Ceremony.

Toastmaster for the banquet was Jack Barr of Warren, a Past Commander of Chief Complanter Post 135. The invocation was given by David Deardorff, Warren Post Chaplain. Following the dinner, Mr. Barr welcomed the Legionnaires and their wives on behalf of the Warren-Forest County Council and introduced Mr. William R. Walker, Commander of Chief Complanter Post, who welcomed those attending on behalf of the hosts.

Mr. Barr then introduced the following representatives of the American Legion Auxiliary who responded briefly: Mrs. Mary Ann Buerkle, President, Elk, Forest, McKean, Warren County; Mrs. Emma Kierman, President, Chief Complanter Unit 135; Mrs. Mabel Bisson, President-elect, Chief Complanter Unit 135; and Mrs. Rose Falconer, President of Sugar Grove Unit 753. Alan Buerkle, Commander-elect of Warren-Forest County Council spoke briefly concerning the accomplishments which he hoped would result from this year's work.

Alden Stearns of Sugar Grove, Vice Commander of the 28th District emphasized the Child Welfare aspects of the Legion program. He also stated that with the seven Posts in the area working together that they could expect to put on an exceptional District Convention in June when it convenes in Warren.

Thomas M. Nelson, Sr., of Oil City, immediate Past Commander of the 28th District, was present and told of the importance of membership in the overall Legion Program. R. B. "Red" Voorhees of Franklin, long-time Service Officer for the 28th District and Director of Veterans Affairs in Venango County, spoke on the Rehabilitation Program. He especially praised the work of the American Legion Auxiliary in this respect and told of the work that they are doing in Veterans Administration Hospitals and at Scotland School for Veterans Children.

District Commander Francis A. Masson of Sharon was the guest of honor for the evening and informed the group on various aspects of the Legion Program for the coming year. He told of the insurance plan that is currently gaining importance in the organization and stated that it was being instituted in many of the Posts throughout Pennsylvania. He also spoke concerning Scotland School for Veterans Children and urged that all Legionnaires who have an opportunity to do so visit the school. Mr. Masson informed the group that the American Legion provides a four year full-tuition scholarship for every graduate of the school to attend college.

Following Mr. Masson's address, Toastmaster Barr introduced Mrs. Masson, and extended an invitation to all of those attending to join with the Warren Post for an evening of dancing to the music of Orrie Beebe. The Benediction was pronounced by Carl Olson of Youngsville, Chaplain of the County Council.

The dinner, which was planned and served by members of Chief Complanter Unit, American Legion Auxiliary, was served at 6:30 with the following committee in charge: Kitchen—Mrs. Florence Edwards, chairman; Dolly Ayres, Belle Maines, Emma Kierman, and Florence Hill. ## Resignation of Highway Engineer Effective Sept. 28

Oil City (AP) — Joseph Fogo of Cochran, acting District highway engineer has submitted his resignation effective Sept. 28.

Fogo, a Republican, gave no reason for his action. He was named acting head of the district in July, replacing Edward Ellis, a Democrat, who the state highways department said was removed in a shakeup.

The district comprises Venango, Lawrence, Mercer, Crawford, Warren, Forest and Erie Counties. It had been reported that Democratic chairmen in the seven counties in the highway district have been trying to supplant Fogo. However, a spokesman for the department in Harrisburg said two weeks ago that he would continue to be district engineer.

Unconfirmed reports from the district engineer's office in Franklin indicated H. S. Gahagan, assistant district engineer, will become acting district engineer and that Gahagan's present post will be taken over by Alphonse Rossi of New Castle.

Hurricane Flossy Is Headed Into Coastline

New Orleans (AP) — Hurricane Flossy picked up power early today as it skipped over a small portion of southeastern Louisiana and stormed through the Gulf of Mexico toward the Alabama-Florida coastline.

Flossy, the sixth tropical storm of the season, was expected to move in on the Mobile-Pensacola area early this afternoon, accompanied by eight-foot tides. The full fury of the tides may miss Mobile Bay, the advisory said, should the center pass south of the city as appeared likely.

The storm, originally pointed toward New Orleans, veered to the east in its northward march and removed the danger of floods to the city from Lake Pontchartrain. Torrential rains were expected along the coasts of Mississippi, Alabama and Florida as the storm moved toward the mainland at 10 to 12 miles per hour.

Two Are Held for Stealing Five Miles of PRR Telegraph Wire

Efficient police work cleared up another case of wholesale thefts in Warren County Friday afternoon when two Bradford men were collared for stealing an estimated five miles of Pennsylvania Railroad telegraph wire during the month and tying up communications between Warren and Buffalo.

Working in the Kinzua-Corydon Quaker Bridge area, Donald E. Johnson, 20, a parolee from Whitehill Industrial School, and Lawrence Courteau, 28, were arrested Friday as they emerged from the woods after their latest climb-and-snip foray.

Both pleaded guilty to larceny charges Saturday before Peace Justice Marion Loucks of Mead Township. They were returned to Warren County Jail in lieu of $500 cash bail to await the next term of court.

Their apprehension by State Trooper George Stoltz of the Warren substation and PRR detective Sgt. Charles Schoenfeld, ended a mystery which has caused railroad officials much grief since September 10th.

FALL SESSION OPENS TODAY IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court opened its 1956 fall session at Pittsburgh today and once again passed over an opportunity to announce decisions on three pending major cases.

The three cases are: (1) The appeal of seven Pittsburgh and Greensburg newspapermen from contempt of court convictions in connection with the making of news photographs in the Westmoreland County court house;

(2) Norman W. Moon's fight to escape the death sentence for the slaying of Judge Allison D. Wade in a Warren County court room, and (3) A decision on whether Westinghouse Electric Corp. employees are entitled to unemployment compensation on the basis of a state ruling that a part of their long strike last spring was a "lockout."

A list of seven decisions was read off as the state's highest court convened the session this morning. None of the three major cases was included.

There was no indication from the court on the status of any of the three cases. The decisions could be handed down later today or on other days of the session which is expected to continue through this week and into next week.

A total of 55 cases are listed for argument.

The petition referred to in the above dispatch was filed in June when the Supreme Court was asked to order a new trial for Moon who shot to death Judge Allison D. Wade in the Warren county court house January 13, 1954 during a hearing on charges that Moon failed to keep up support payments to his estranged wife. Moon was found guilty of first degree murder in a verdict that fixed the death penalty on May 25, 1954. The present ruling will be on the question of whether or not proceedings should be stayed on account of the alleged mental illness of the prisoner, who is presently confined in the Western Penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

It was January 28, 1956, that Judge Pick, after re-examining findings and recommendations of a Sanity Commission, ordered proceedings in the case to continue and any additional reasons for a new trial be filed. February 14 exceptions to the Court Opinion of January 28 were filed by defense counsel, and March 29, exceptions to the opinion of January 28th as filed by the defense were dismissed. A second appeal to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court was later filed by the defense.

TRAGEDY ON FISH TUG

Erie (AP) — A mysterious explosion aboard a fishing tug in Erie Harbor yesterday killed Alexander E. Urban, 49, of Erie. Four other crewmen were hurt. While exact cause of the blast was not determined, authorities said gas or cleaning solvent fumes may have been responsible. There was no fire.

Barbershop Chorus Already Launched On a Busy Season

The Warren Chapter Barbershoppers and the 1956-57 Seneca County District Chorus Champions provided delightful entertainment at two recent Coudersport Conservatory meetings, one at Knox and the other in the Bellies Lettres Club of Oil City. The audience response was magnificent. Included on the programs were the Chord Cadets, who just recently reorganized; a new quartet in the Warren Chapter, the Four Chiefs; and George Johnson, the favorite comedy pianist in this locality.

These two performances began a full, busy fall-spring season for the barbershoppers. The agenda includes numerous additional personal appearances and a trip to Auburn, New York where the 40 voice chorus will compete for regional recognition. The winning chorus will be entitled to travel to Los Angeles in June of 1957 to compete in International Competition.

The big show, the 9th Annual Night of Harmony, will be presented on January 19, 1957 with distinguished and nationally known quartets as guests of the Warren Chapter. Already signed to appear are the Four Chorders from Canada. Many will remember their outstanding foursome from their appearance here a few years ago. A number of other leading singing groups have been contacted with confirmations expected soon. Last year, it will be remembered,

PLCB Employees Hold Planning Session At Eldred Sunday

A well-attended meeting of the McKean-Warren-Potter Counties Chapter, Independent Association of PLCB Employees, was held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Costello in Eldred. Also in attendance at the meeting were delegates from northwestern Pennsylvania to the annual convention of the Association, to be held at York in October.

Following a routine business meeting held by the local chapter, the meeting was turned into a district meeting with L. N. Schuler, of Warren, president of the host chapter, as temporary chairman. Chapters represented were Erie county, Crawford-Venango-Clarion counties, and Elk-Jefferson-Clearfield counties.

It was decided the district will bid for the convention to be held at Erie in 1957 or 1958, and five resolutions were drawn up to be presented for convention action this year.

Regional Vice Presidents Joseph Bevacqua, of Ridgway, and Robert Brant, of Titusville, reported on latest Association matters, and the assembled delegates decided upon convention procedure affecting the district.

Following adjournment, a buffet luncheon was served and the date of the next local chapter meeting was set for Warren on Sunday, November 18. Principal business at that time will be convention reports by delegates L. N. Schuler and A. J. "Moon" Schaefer, and election of officers to serve the chapter for 1957.

Research Study Contract At Warren State Hospital

Harrisburg dispatches say that the State Welfare Department has approved a research study contract between the Warren State Hospital and the National Institute of Mental Health to determine factors affecting care of the mentally ill.

The research project will consist of a scientific evaluation of hospital case records of the history of patients after leaving the hospital, with a view to determining the effect of condition such as age, occupation, community and legal difficulties on the outcome of treatment.

It is understood the principal reason the Warren hospital was chosen over other institutions in the state is that the continuity and completeness of the records at North Warren covering some 21,000 patients exceeds any others, making it possible to reach valid deductions from the hospital's mass of data.

New York Resident Painfully Hurt in Highway Accident

Wendell Hornstrom, about 50, of RD 1, Niobe, was reported in "good" condition today at Warren General Hospital where he was taken early Saturday morning after an alert police officer found him lying face down beside his wrecked car on Jackson Run Road.

Clayton Rhoades, Conewango Township Officer, was riding with Donnell Allen, Jr., Chief Deputy Sheriff, about 3:45 a. m. Saturday morning when Rhoades saw what he thought was a man lying beside the road.

The two investigated and found Hornstrom where he had presumably been lying sometime after his northbound vehicle veered off the left of the road, sideswiped a utility pole and some fence posts before skidding back across the road and coming to rest in the driveway of the home of Amos Bauer, just above Elsie's. The man was unconscious when the officers discovered him lying just off the road beside the open door of his car.

He was taken to Warren General Hospital and treated for a possible concussion, bumps, bruises and facial lacerations.

The first pole struck by the vehicle was about 250 yards below the Bauer residence and they reported hearing no sound of the wreck. It was believed Hornstrom fell asleep at the wheel, was awakened when the car sideswiped the posts. He is then thought to have gunned the machine to bring it back to the highway and skidded into the driveway from the damp pavement. Force of the final impact rendered his unconscious and flung him from the coupe.

DISENFRANCHISED MILLIONS

With no small pride, Americans like to boast of their mobility. Few people in the world get around as much as we do, not only in travel, but from job to job. The family with deep roots isn't as common as it used to be.

This mobility has many cheering aspects, but some

This mobility has many cheering aspects, but some that are not so good, too. One of the latter is the fact that in any given election year it deprives millions of Americans of their voting privileges.

The American Heritage Foundation, which does yeoman service in trying to get out the American vote, says some six million citizens will be barred from voting this year because they can't meet varying state residence requirements.

A handful of states demand two years of residence within their borders and another year in a particular county before a citizen can register.

These and any roughly similar requirements appear quite at odds with the characteristic mobility of the American people. They inflict stiff political penalty for doing the very thing which so often benefits people economically—moving about the country.

A 60-day requirement like Iowa's would be more in tune with the times.

HOME FURNISHINGS SHOW

We join with Burgess W. E. Rice in commending to all residents of the borough and surrounding area the exhibition planned by the Warren Zonta Club at the Beaty Cafeteria Friday and Saturday in observance of National Home Furnishing Week which is being currently commemorated. In a statement issued today the Burgess says:

"I am glad to comply with the request of the public spirited members of the Zonta Club and bring to the attention of my fellow residents of this community (and our near neighbors) the occasion of National Home Furnishing Week, now in progress.

"Each year we have been accustomed to observe various brands of "Clean Up" or "Paint Up" Weeks to enhance the exterior of our homes. This campaign to improve the living areas of Warren homes seems to me to be entirely in keeping with our common desire for better living.

"In connection with National Home Furnishing Week, I commend to all of my fellow Warrenites (and suburbanites) the Home Furnishing Show, sponsored by the Zonta Club with the cooperation of many local merchants. This exhibit is being presented to the public in Beaty Junior High Cafeteria September 28th and 29th."

Unless some person comes up with a workable plan for its continuance there is grave danger that Warren will be without important ambulance service one week from today, since the deadline set by local morticians for suspending this part of their business which they have operated for perhaps a half century has been set for Sunday, September 30th.

Hats off again to Nancy Curtis, member of the Lottsville-Columbus 4-H Club, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Curtis, Columbus, winner of honors at the State Junior Dairy Show last week with her three-year-old 4-H Club cow, which had previously been named reserve champion Jersey at the North-western District 4-H Dairy Roundup at Meadville.

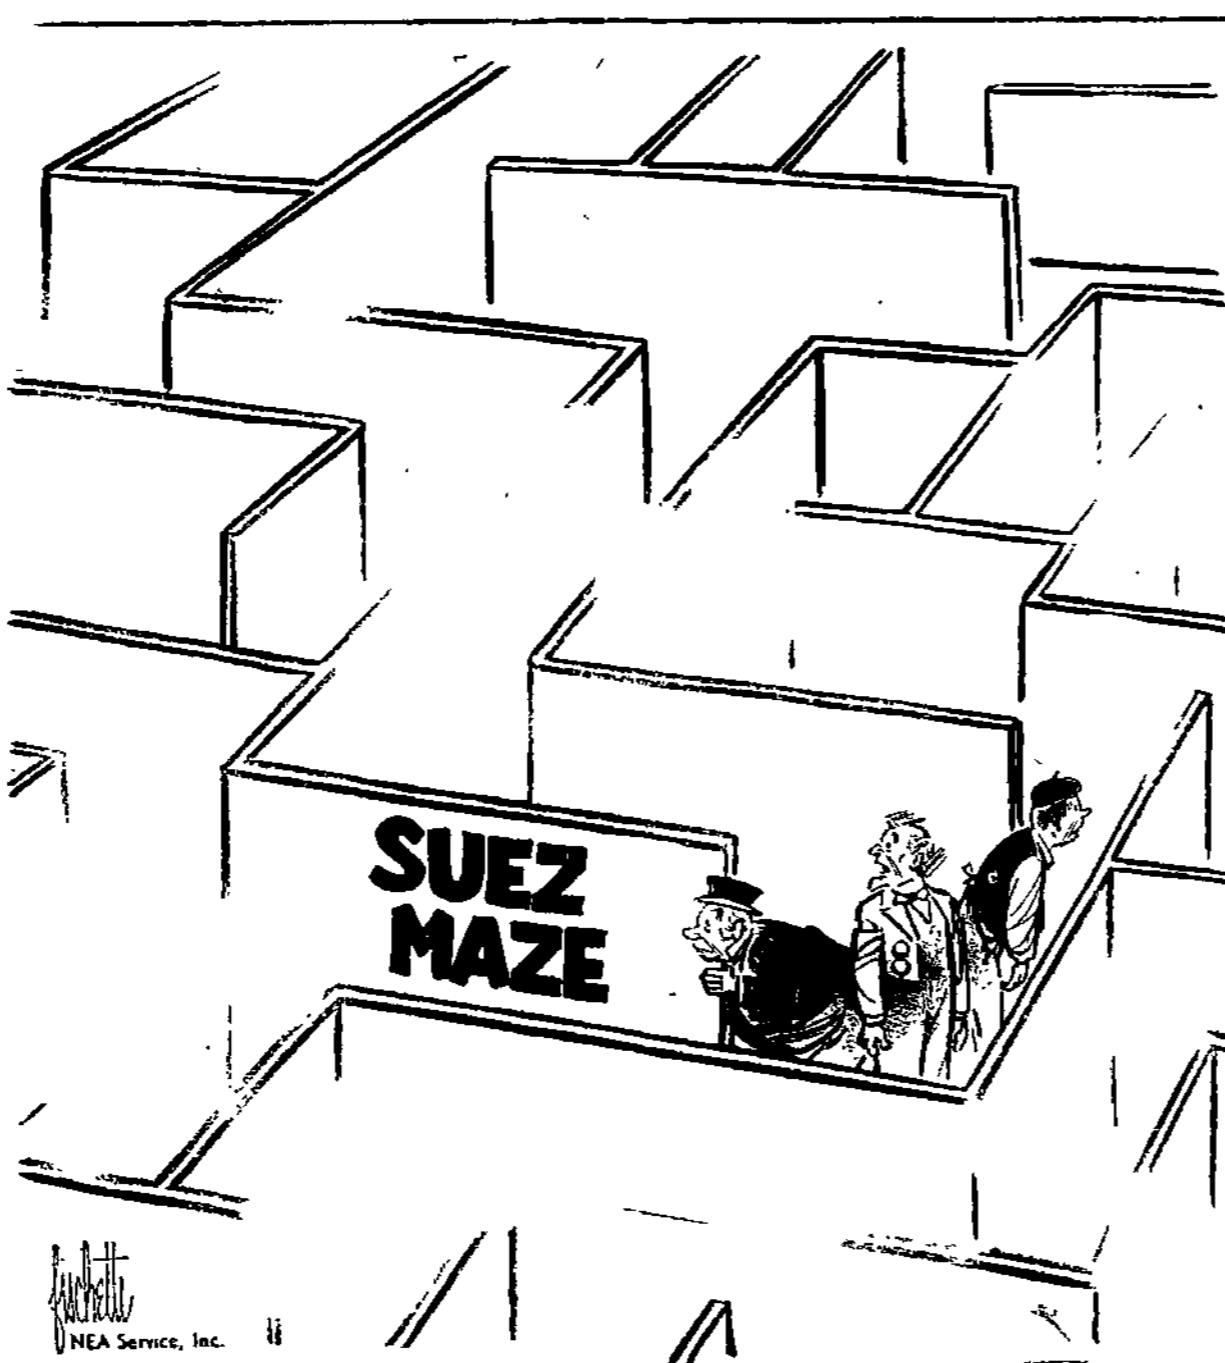

A timely and interesting meeting is in store for Lions Club members tomorrow when Melvin G. Keller, president of the Warren Area Joint School Board will discuss "The School Situation!"

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; Be thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth and eat that I give thee.—Ezekiel 2:8.

I sought Thee at a distance, and did not know that Thou wast near. I sought Thee abroad, and behold, Thou wast within.

Here and There

Couple paragraphs from the column "From the Sidelines" on the sport page of the Saturday St. Marys Press, referring to the 28-0 victory of the Dutch over the Wolves under the lights at St. Marys Friday evening:

Likeable Ralph Santos, Sheffield coach, told us he doesn't see how his Wolverines will win an AMFC game this year. Says things look pretty bleak at the Warren County school for the next few seasons. We think Ralph is a bit too pessimistic. Sheffield, despite the statistics, didn't look that bad. Wolverine halfbacks Bill Johnson and Tom McNeal can really eat up the yardage when given some decent support. Those fumbles helped St. Marys immensely. Enjoyed a very nice chat before and after the game with Lt. Steve Eisenhower of the U. S. Marine Air Force. Steve who was an All-American guard at Navy in 1952 and '53, played his scholastic football with the Wolverines in '46 through '48, graduating in the spring of 1949. In addition to Steve's 2 years as an All-American, he was chosen as an All Service star in 1954 and '55 playing with the Quantico and Pensacola Marine service teams. Steve recently received his "wings" and will leave shortly for his new assignment at Cherry Point, N. C. "I had lots of fun, but my football days are over now," Steve said. From here on in, Steve will do his flying in the air instead of the gridiron.

According to The Titusville Herald-Drake Well Memorial Park received a gift of an excellent map of the Pennsylvania oil region in 1869, reflecting developments in the first 10 years of the oil industry. The map is the gift of R. W. Rush of Oil City. It was lithographed by P. S. Duval and son of Philadelphia, after being drawn by Henry E. Wright, civil engineer and land surveyor of Titusville. Besides denoting the ownership of farms in Venango, Crawford and Warren counties, the map includes an insert on the oil region and its railroad connections. It is in excellent condition, being backed by linen.

Rowdy Sideshows Draw Attention in Campaign

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Back-alley brawling between ex-President Harry S. Truman and GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall is a kind of political distraction to the Main Street bout between President Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

It's necessary to go back to the record to know all that's involved in the Truman-Hall exchanges of dirty digs.

In response to a question on the subject, President Eisenhower told his press conference, "I still believe that America believes I am honest, that I am not a rascal, that I am not a racketeer or anything like that."

Since nobody—not even Mr. Truman—has called President Eisenhower personally any of those things, the denial may have been a little more sweeping than necessary.

THE WORST that Truman has said of the Eisenhower administration thus far was at the Democratic convention in Chicago. Truman's "Point Five" in his six-point indictment of the GOP at the convention's final session was this:

"We're in a fight to save the finances of all the people from control of the money changers and mortgage sharks."

Truman went on to explain how the big bankers behind the Eisenhower administration had raised national debt interest rates, affecting even homeowners and consumers.

Then came this punch line: "And I want to say to you that they are in danger right now from this bunch of racketeers."

Two weeks later at Milwaukee in a press conference before his Labor Day speech, even Truman sucked this back a little. There he said they were "legal racketeers." And he limited the application to the so-called "give-away" of natural resources.

When Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson was asked in Washington if he approved this, he replied:

"I would say that I wouldn't have used that precise word myself, but no one could feel more strongly than I do about the give-aways of our natural resources, by this administration to which—as I understand it—President Truman was referring; not to the personal honesty or integrity of President Eisenhower."

THIS SITUATION has an almost exact parallel in the past—with the two party roles reversed. It came with Democratic attempts to hang on Republican vice presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon the charge that he accused Truman, ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Stevenson of being "traitors" and that the Democratic party was "the party of treason."

Len Hall has been doing his darndest to beat down this charge. He has offered $1,000 to any charity for proof that Nixon ever said those things.

What Nixon actually said was: "Truman, Acheson and Stevenson are traitors to the high principles in which many Democrats believe. . . . Real Democrats are outraged by the Truman-Acheson-Stevenson gang's toleration and defense of communism in high places."

HALL TRIED to hang this albatross around Stevenson's neck by associating him with Truman's statement that he, Truman, didn't think Hiss was a Communist spy.

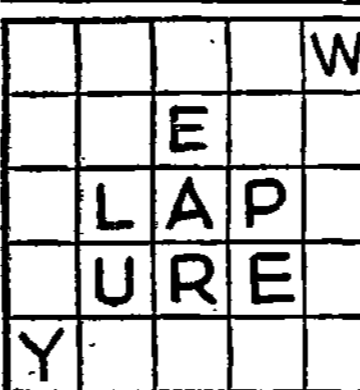

Stevenson's reiteration of his 1952 statement that he thought Hiss properly convicted of perjury in denying he had passed documents to Communists may or may not end this episode.

Politics is bad enough without making it worse by distortion and exaggeration. But politics has always been played by such cute trickery, and it probably always will be.

Hillcrest Housing Development Lots Now Available

Modern Residential Community Being Opened at North Warren

High and dry on a scenic plain, located on the hill behind the "Miracle Mile" of sprouting businesses along the three-lane highway in North Warren, a housing project is beginning which could increase by a third the population of the booming community.

Called Hillcrest Housing Development by James Blomquist, co-owner and founder of the project, the ambitious scheme to create a first rate residential district covers an area approximating ten acres.

Pioneer settler in the area is Richard Betts whose ultra-modern eight-room red wood structure is nearing completion on a back corner lot of the first three acres to be laid out for building. Gas and electric lines have just recently been completed for the first 47 lots to be blocked out in sizes about 100 by 200 feet.

It is the plan of Blomquist and co-owner Clair J. Beyer to pre-

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Sept. 21, 1956
Warren, Pa.

To the Editor,
Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

It rained again yesterday! Many parents thought of little Mary and Johnny coming home for noon lunch. "We can take the car and slip down to pick them up and keep them dry and comfortable." So they did.

On the corner of Buchanan and Jefferson the faithful "Patrols" were protecting the little Ruths and Jimmys from the steady flow of cars coming from all directions. For five minutes at a time they held back the little ones who were not so fortunate to have someone call for them to keep them out of the rain. These on the corners waiting to get across the busy intersection were getting wetter and wetter.

Why didn't some of you parents have the courtesy to stop your car and let the kiddies get across. Why be so smug and unconcerned about the other children who were also anxious to get home before they got too wet.

Next time it rains or when the temperature gets real low and you are seeing to it that your child is dry and comfortable, give a break to the children standing waiting to get across the street. Help the patrols do their job.

Sincerely,
A parent

Y-Teen Department Enrolls Youth Members for the YW

Y-Teen members of Warren High are telling their classmates here as "Space For You" in the program of the YWCA, the occasion being the annual Y-Teen Roll Call, during which teen-agers are invited to participate in the fun and fellowship of the "Y".

Theme of the national observance is "Space For You... Join the Y-Teens." Started in 1951, with organization of the Little Girls' Christian Association in Oakland, Calif., this phase of the YWCA program has grown until today there are more than 400,000 teen-agers in some 6,000 Y-Teen groups throughout the United States.

An intensive membership drive is being conducted in Warren High and new members will be signed up throughout the next two weeks, both locally and nationally.

The Y-Teen program itself is carried on through democratic clubs in which members choose their own officers, activities, and representatives to attend conferences, local, state and national.

This year, in observance of the 15th anniversary of work with teen-agers, the National YWCA, starting November 11, will sponsor a week-long conference in Washington and New York City, where more than 3,000 Y-Teens from all sections of the country will discuss the role of youth in today's world.

Through the Y-Teen program, which combines fun and fellowship, young people may find opportunities to develop their individual personalities and to assume community leadership. The program extends to world-wide relationship through such projects as the scrapbook exchange and through contribution to the YWCA's World Fellowship Fund.

Opening meeting of the Ninth Grade Y-Teens will be held Tuesday evening in the YWCA activities building. All girls wishing to join are asked to be at the "Y" promptly at 3:15, when election of officers will be held.

Next meeting of the High School Y-Teens will be held Monday, October 1. Program for the evening will be a movie, "Assignment Children," with Danny Kaye, in which Danny goes over 40,000 miles to get 40 million smiles from children all over the world.

A class of competitive swimming will begin for High School Y-Teens on October 2, 6:30 to 7:00, Howard Alexander to be instructor for the six-week class. This is not a class for beginners, but for girls who know how to swim and are anxious to improve their swimming technique. It will also prepare them for the Red Cross life saving class which will begin at a later date.

Closing Schools to Scouts Is Short-Sighted Course

"BOY SCOUTS TO LOSE USE OF SCHOOLS" says the headline over a news story in a southern city.

The story goes on to explain that after a four-month trial of letting Boy Scout troops use city school buildings for their meetings it was calculated that the custodial service would cost the city $1,000 a year.

So the city school board voted unanimously to tell the Boy Scouts they were very sorry but they couldn't use public schools for their meetings any longer.

How short-sighted can a school board get?

In this same city last year thousands of dollars worth of damage was done to school buildings by students breaking into schools knocking out windows and smearing paint on the outside of new school buildings.

It wasn't done by boys who had good Boy Scout leadership, boys busy learning and doing as a troop instead of breaking, destroying and stealing as a gang.

WHY SHOULD SCHOOLS LIE IDLE?

IT'S a crime to shut public schools to such worthy uses as Boy Scout meetings because it costs taxpayers a little money.

A school board should be glad to have its schools used after school hours for all kinds of worthy community projects.

A few dollars spent for custodial service and electric lights won't cost taxpayers nearly as much as closing school doors and turning kids out on the street.

Why should school gymnasiums, auditoriums, and workshops go unused from the end of one school day to the beginning of the next? Our big need today is to give kids something interesting to do in their free hours and to help them put their "gang spirit" to constructive rather than to destructive use.

Hair Neglect

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

IF teen-agers who are seen about town are faithful examples, young women generally are neglecting their hair.

Schoolgirls and young working girls seem to be suffering these obvious earmarks of neglect:

Greasy, stringy long hair, not washed often enough.

Hair that sheds on coat shoulders and movie seats. Such hair is not brushed enough.

Hair that has a stale aroma. It's not washed enough, not rinsed well and not brushed.

Dandruff. This indicates neglect of medical aid, good diet and cleanliness measures.

Hair that stands up in a dry, wiry mop. It's not thinned frequently enough. The wrong shampoo is being used.

Inside hatbands that are dirty and grease-caked. This is caused by hair not washed enough, not brushed enough and kept, stale and flat, day after day.

Split ends that look frizzy and unhealthy. This is not trimmed and shaped often enough. Hair is being put up soaking wet, too tightly, every night.

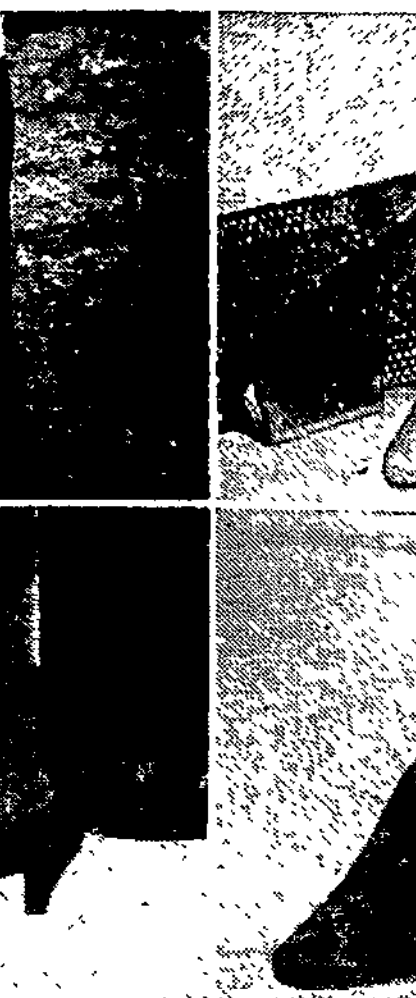

Hair that looks like rope. Lacquer in it is not washed or brushed out frequently enough between uses.

Spotty tinting jobs. These girls are trying to do it themselves and they can't see in back.

Well-kept hair should have good luster. It should look vibrant and a little electric, not matted down. It should look as though it would be nice to touch.

It should have a sweet, clean aroma.

Low Heels Get a High Grade

A shoe wardrobe for going away to school should include comfy, comfortable leather shoes for each school activity. For class wear (left), a completely flat shoe is a good choice. This girl chooses a silky suede leather that goes with her leather and tweed suit. For class or casual wear (top center), the dandified flat has replaced the loafer of yore. For the Saturday night dance (top right), a closed gold kid shoe gives good support. For going to town or for dressy campus wear (bottom center), a medium heel pump is a flattering choice. This spectator has a durable stacked heel. For study or a night in the dorm (lower right), a lounging slipper is useful. This medieval slipper has very thin sole and upper for toe-wiggling comfort.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

If you haven't completed the shoe wardrobe you'll use in college, here are some good pointers. Chief among them is the fact that success isn't so much a matter of buying the latest in style as it is being sure that you have a pair or two for each activity.

The average schoolgirl will own 14 pairs of leather shoes this fall. Eight will be new this year.

In your own case, perhaps many of your last year's shoes will do. But check over and see. Get the holdover pairs repaired and cleaned up.

First come flats. There should be dressy, tailored and casual items in the wardrobe.

Flats are vital at school since many dates are shorter or on a level height.

Flats also are safe for geology field trips and tip-toeing into class late.

For wear with shorts, knee pants and sports skirts, the loafer of past years has undergone a radical change. It has leather soles, monk straps and brass buckles. Styles are very dandified, but perfect for wear with knee socks.

For wear with tailored bulky woollens and the very popular tweed and leather suits, a more plushy look is in order. Reversed calf in fall shades—slenna, persimmon, chestnut, beige, camel and loden green—appears for this kind of wear.

Dressy flats have lots of trim. They come in two colors, with straps, buttons and buckles. A long day in town will call for a pair of these, particularly if a girl hasn't been wearing pumps very long.

The tailored pump for visiting, faculty teas or the occasion that can use a little grown-up formality comes often with a stacked heel this year. This contributes long wear and reduces the likelihood of ghastly heel-breaking accidents.

A comfortable slipper—that isn't a bedroom-slipper—is important in dormitory life. It should have a soft leather sole and no heel. This slipper can be as flamboyant as you wish but should provide warmth and space for toe-wiggling.

For shoes to wear to the Saturday dance, with a short formal gown, select with care. Lovely gold kid goes with everything and is truly festive. But pick a shoe with a manageable heel and good all-round support. A toe pinched in a sandal can hurt like fury when stepped on

Punishment's Goal Is to Cure Faults, Not Stir Resentment

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

LAST night Andy's father gave him a fine punishment. The boy "forgot" to telephone home from a friend's house arriving nearly two hours later for dinner. His father waited until he had eaten. Then he told Andy that he could neither visit friends nor have them visit him for a period of two weeks.

Angry, Andy complained of his punishment to his mother. After he'd expressed himself fully, his father called him and asked: "Why are you angry at me? I didn't get you into this trouble. Forgetting did. Why aren't you angry at this forgetting habit that loses you fun all the time instead of at me?"

Then inviting the boy to sit down, he went on, "Just let's count some of the fun that forgetting has cost you lately. First, there was the carnival you wanted to go to. remember? You didn't get to go to it because when Uncle Ted came by to pick you up, mother didn't know where you were."

"NOW you've let forgetting do you out of your pals for two weeks. It's punished me, too. Twice because you've forgotten to telephone home where you were, I've had to leave on trips without saying goodbye to you. Once if I'd known where to reach you, I could have taken you with me."

By the time Andy's father had finished, the boy's resentment had been switched from his father as his punisher to his own forgetfulness.

To help a punished child re-direct his anger from us to the inward fault which has got him into trouble is always the first object of punishment.

The second objective is to open his eyes to the fact that his current punishment is just another of many deprivations inflicted on him by the fault.

PUNISHMENT that ends in a child's resentment of us. In his fear or guilt is just a waste of everybody's strength.

For each of these destructive feelings blocks moral energy, inducing a great sense of helplessness. This passive condition continues just so long as the child sees us as the cause of his punishment.

But as we lead him to see that he's been deprived by his own fault instead of by some outward agency he can't control, his moral energies surge into life. His manner becomes vigorous and confident.

If you're watching him, you can actually see him decide he's sick of being punished around by his fault—and resolve to take on the work of self-correction.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ERWIN PICKUP

Winter white mums decorated the altar in Trinity Memorial church September 22 for the candlelight wedding of Barbara Lorell Weiland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Weiland of Hemlock street extension, and John Erwin Pickup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Pickup, 23 Mapleshade avenue, Falconer, N. Y.

The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector, performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p. m. Richard Sides was at the organ and Darlene Custer, Falconer, N. Y., sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

Escorted by her father, the bride was gowned in sequined lace and nylon net over satin and carried a cascade of white stephanotis and ivy centered with white baby roses. The fitted bodice of her gown had a mandarin collar and long sleeves coming to points over the hands, the skirt featured lace panels and continued into a chapel length train.

Maid of honor Marilyn Johnson wore yellow crystal; Nancy Carlson and the bride's cousin, Karen Grundberg, were in turquoise. Their gowns were styled with portrait necklines in fitted bodices, and full skirts accented with back bows. Miss Johnson carried a cascade of bronze fuji mums; the others, yellow fuji mums.

Completing the bridal party, Ronald McChesney of Frewsburg, N. Y., was best man; ushers were Wayne Howard, Jamestown, N. Y., and the bride's brother, Robert Weiland.

Wearing yellow rose corsages, Mrs. Weiland chose sapphire blue velvet and matching accessories, Mrs. Pickup was in teal blue crepe and lace.

The reception followed in the church parlors from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m., the bride's table featuring a five-tier wedding cake encircled by ivy and white mums and topped by miniature bridal figures. Baskets of glads were used throughout the parlors. Aides were a classmate of the bride, Charlotte Wentworth, managing the guest book; Mrs. Roger Nelson and Carol Bratt, pouring; Mrs. Donald Rudolph, cutting the cake; also Karen Yaegle, Ann Finley, Tootie and Carolyn Lane, with Mrs. Charles Lane as mistress of ceremonies.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James McGill, Jr., Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. James McGill, Westline; Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Weiland, Youngstown, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jungquist, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pickup, Cherry Creek, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Custer and family, Edith Weaver, Falconer, N. Y.; Mark Z. McGill, Jr., Fort Washington, Pa.

Returning from a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will be at home September 29 at 477 Walnut street, Meadville. For travel, the bride selected a wool dress of gray pinstripe, red accessories and white rose corsage.

She was graduated from Warren High in 1953 and from WCA Hospital School of Nursing in Jamestown in 1956. Mr. Pickup was graduated from Falconer High in '32 and from New York State University at Utica in '54.

Hostesses who honored the bride-elect were Mrs. John Moll and Mrs. Warren Yaegle; Mrs. Clifford Grundberg and Miss Karen; Mrs. Donald Rudolph and Nancy Carlson; Mrs. E. W. Pickup; Marilyn Johnson; Mrs. Wayne Howard and Mrs. Ronald McChesney.

Strange Story about a Pleasant Township Lad

A case of little-boy-lost while a family slept undisturbed was cleared up about midnight Saturday by local state troopers.

William Leonard called the troopers about 7 p. m. Saturday and told them a small boy had wandered into his service station near the Mineral Well in the gathering dusk. Officers had much difficulty ascertaining just where the boy lived and until not until about midnight was his home established in Pleasant Township.

Troopers awakened the family and handed over the child who apparently had not been missed since a mid-afternoon disappearance.
